

5-Hour Economy

We thought we made it through the worst of the mess. Housing crisis, unemployment, foreclosures, stock market crashes. Yet here we are. Drinking energy from a bottle.

It seems like we go through a new crisis every 5 hours, yet we work through it. Many of our work situations have defined excellence not as a matter of principle, but a matter of exertion. A matter of exploitation. Yet we've found tolerance in a bottle.

Liquid energy only masks our tired muscles and exhausted minds. It does not change that we will be at it again the next day. Fuck this 5-hour economy. You deserve a break.
